MR. BORDEN'S INFLUENCE IN THE WEST.

That Mr. R. L. Borden made a favorable impression on the people of the West who listened to the Liberal following from the alarm of the government press and its frantic appeals to the party to come out west and help save the Liberal following from destruction, says the Ottawa citizen. The independent press were not slow in recognizing that Mr. Borden had a winning programme and a winning way. This Calgary Daily News with Editor McGillivuddy directing its policy, at once confessed that the people were crowding to hear the Conservative leader and receiving his policy with acclamation. "They live in a fools paradise," said the News, "who thought that his tour did not menace the Liberal rule in the West." Now Editor Richardson of the Winnipeg Tribune sounds the warning and confesses the undoubted success of the campaign. He writes:

"For government newspapers to attempt to make light of Mr. Borden's tour and to claim that he has created no impression is unwise. Indeed, it would be a reflection upon the intelligence of the public, if a man of Mr. Borden's admitted sincerity and personal integrity should make no impression. The people have a much greater interest in the west than they have in the fortunes of any party."

His promise to bring about public ownership of telephones and telegraphs; his declaration in favor of public ownership of railways; his promise to create a great public utilities commission that will be non-partisan and administrative and judicial; his promise to restore the control and administration of public lands and minerals to those provinces that have been robbed of them; his promise to reform the postal office department and to establish free rural postal delivery; his promise to reform the whole civil service by modeling it on British lines, to make appointments to it and promotion in it possible only through competitive examination and not through the wire pulling of members of parliament and presidents of party associations, the whole service to be under control of an independent commission, these promises and declarations simply cannot fail to impress the people who hear them from the lips of a man who makes them with the simple power to convince that Mr. Borden undoubtedly possesses.

H. H. Dewar, liberal candidate for South Toronto, declares for Mr. Borden's civil service reform plank. The Toronto News says: "It would be ungracious to doubt his sincerity. He refuses, however, to credit the sincerity of Mr. Borden. Mr. Dewar's contention is that Mr. Borden must be judged by the performances of Mr. Whitney in Ontario. It is fair, therefore, to judge Mr. Dewar according to the performances of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Ottawa? It would surely be more generous to believe that Mr. Dewar will use his personal influence in order to persuade the Ottawa government to adopt the principal of civil service reform and that Mr. Borden will impose civil service reform upon his party in case he succeeds in the elections."

The Toronto News says when the Autonomy bills were before Parliament Mr. Borden argued that the public land should be handed over to the new provinces now when he repeats these arguments in the West it is held that his programme is a huge scheme of public bribery. Practically the Liberal spokesmen insist that Mr. Borden must abandon his policy because it was rejected by the government.

The Toronto World says: "Mr. S. McCarthy, M. P., who will shortly retire from Dominion politics, has decided to lead the Conservatives in Alberta in the next local campaign."

This will be news to the people of the west. It would be interesting to know its source. Mr. McCarthy promises to be quite a factor in federal politics in the west for some time to come.

Many Will Be Helped By It.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Karsin, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription, states a well-known authority in a Cleveland morning paper, forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter, and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism.

As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it you want it badly. Our druggists here say they will either supply the ingredients or make the mixture ready to take, if any of our readers so prefer.

The American brewers have recently held their 47th annual Convention and have been groaning over the advancing temperance tide. Here is an extract from one of the reports read: Colorado—The Legislature has passed a Local option law which is to defeat the measure which was handed down by a Methodist preacher for Governor backed up by woman suffrage.—White Ribbon Bulletin.

Don't forget that your neighbor though he differs from you politically may be just as honest in his convictions as you, that this is a free country where freedom of opinion is one of the biggest of the broad foundation stones of our government, and there should be an end of that form of government without it. Be tolerant, therefore, or rather not tolerant but rational, patriotic and good natured. Stand by your convictions and let your neighbor stand by his if so disposed. Keep cool. Argue politics if you will, but do it calmly and reasonably, and bear this fact always in mind, that just as you have made your mind unalterable as to the way in which you will vote, ninety-nine in a hundred of the voting population has done the same thing.

THE "SWASTIKA" FAD

Clever Cushion Covers Especially Designed For This Emblem.
IMPORTANT GOOD LUCK SIGN.

These Cushions Are New and Wonderfully Attractive. Girls For Men, Whether Father, Brother or College Friend—A White Pillow For a Bride.

What would folks do without fads? Everybody should have a fad of some kind, for it is wonderfully interesting, and just now the "swastika" is perhaps the newest. It is of Indian origin and is really very old and a most important good luck emblem.

It is a particularly appropriate design to have on gifts for men, and one of the latest things to make is a cushion for the den, and an effective one is made of leather in the twenty-two inch size. Get a large skin or two smaller ones and cut from one side a square, say thirty inches, if to be made without fringe. If it is to have fringe like the illustration, make it as large as the skin will permit. Be careful to select smooth skins. From the other piece cut another square, thirty inches, for the back. Now cut slits in both pieces exactly alike, two inches apart, and long enough to run a narrow strip of leather through all the way around, leaving a twenty-two inch square in the center of each piece.

Through these holes the pillow is laced together when finished. Cut the edges to form fringe. Look occasionally at the illustration to see that you are proceeding properly. Now we will make the center. Paint a large "swastika." Let it dry; then over it paint a smaller one. Let it dry and directly in the center paint a tiny one, each a different color. Around the outside one draw a line in a dark shade to bring out the emblem.

If you cannot paint, another way equally good, is to cut the design from different colors of leather and paste them on with glue (not mastic), and at any art shop they will paint or burn the line around for you. Still another way is to have the cover entirely of linen. It will wash, which is an advantage. The linen designs are to be applied to a linen foundation by using the long and short buttonhole stitches. If linen is used, dark olive green is about the most effective, the largest "swastika" one shade of oak, the second size lighter and the smallest one light green. Applique with mercerized embroidery cotton No. 8. In the upper left hand corner embroider initials; finish with a green and oak cord and tassel made into knots at three corners and tied in a bow at the fourth. Here are ideas for making three handsome pillows suitable for gifts on any anniversary, and I will add one more practical way that some may like even better than the first described.

Make the foundation and fringe like the cushion first described. In each corner put or glue a "swastika." Green or red on tan is admirable. Have the designs going across the corners diagonally, not straight and in the center, paint or glue the recipient's initials, and, as before, if you cannot paint and do not want leather, use linen.

These pillow covers are new and entirely original. Every one who sees them is charmed to get the idea of such an acceptable gift for men, whether father, brother or college friend, and of course the colors may be chosen to suit individual tastes. Linen covers are striking, and you can put the "swastika" on them. In fact, you can put it anywhere you wish and not go wrong.

A white pillow was given a bride last week with the emblem put on in green and red, two hearts in one corner and initials in the other. The effect was really beautiful.

Quizzing Glass Again.
 The quizzing glass, or single lorgnette, is again taking an important place in the curious world. The little rubbering glass is pliant as well as repulsive both in and out of use and is elaborately trimmed with chased gold and in many cases with diamonds. Many women wear them dangling from the ends of long necker ribbon chains.

Why She Worried

A lady carrying a little dog in her arms was riding in a "bus" that went along Park Lane. All the way up she worried the conductor to know whether they had come to No. —, mentioning a house nearly at the top.

When they reached the number the conductor stopped the "bus" thinking the lady wished to alight there. In stead of doing this, however, she went to the door of the "bus", and, holding up the dog —

"No," m'sieur, answered "the Frenchman with a wam smile. "I had not breakfasted!" On the contrary—

ABUSING THE C. P. R.

Liberal papers are stating that the Conservative government gave the C. P. R. twenty five million acres of land and twenty five million dollars for absolutely nothing when they built the road. Such a statement is so absolutely false on the face of it that it is hardly worth noticing. The grants of land and money were a bonus to build the road. The C. P. R. at that time was the most gigantic railway undertaking in the world, and other nations laughed at a puny colony of a little over five millions of people building such a great trans-continental highway. Without it the west would today be a wilderness and British Columbia would be a state of the United States. By the building of the C. P. R. the several provinces were linked in one grand confederation, and the empires of the world held their breath at the audacity and boldness of this young country. They predicted the railway could never pay, and Liberal orators were not wanting on the floor of the house of Commons to claim that the highway would not pay for the axle grease. All of which is now ancient history. The railway company, backed by the people of Canada, launched the great enterprise in the face of all known precedents, through this then great unknown region and turned it into a live, vigorous young country peopled with tens of thousands of lusty pioneers. It is well for the people of the west to ponder these things in their hearts.

How different the position of the Grand Trunk Pacific to day. The C. P. R. and the early pioneers have made the west a great country. The country is known, its resources are known, every facility is afforded for construction and yet the Liberal Government pay the Grand Trunk nine-tenths of the cost of the road for building it.

In another column we publish the list of new district court judges and rise to remark that Red Deer as usual gets the cold shoulder. A lawyer from Edmonton is appointed for the Wetaskiwin district, and an Innisfail lawyer of only a few years experience in the west, and no great ability, gets the appointment for McLeod district. We are not aware that Geo. W. Greene would take the position if offered him, but the government could not have done less than at least express a desire to have his services on the bench as he is head and shoulders above a number of young limbs of the law who have been appointed. Failing Mr. Greene the Government could find first class timber in J. L. Crawford and J. Carlyle Moore both rising lawyers of the west. But it seems the policy of the government is to knock Red Deer. But there is always a time to knock back and that time is coming. Just "wait a little longer."

Three new Senators were appointed Friday for Ontario, namely: Hon. Napoleon Antoine Belcourt, M. P., Ottawa; Archibald Campbell, M. P., Centre York and Daniel Derbysaire, ex-M. P., for Brookville. The way those fellows are running for shelter is a caution.

John Herron, M. P., the well known member for Southern Alberta said recently that if the Conservative party had no other plank in their platform save that of the restoration of the public lands of Alberta that should be enough to carry the country.

C. A. Magrath the Conservative candidate in the federal constituency of Medicine Hat is probably the strongest candidate that could have been chosen and his nomination was unanimous.

The Ponoka Herald says: With the conventions at hand—both Liberal and Conservative are to be held in Red Deer—political matters are shaping fast. On almost every street corner the "marked" ones can be seen, and of course they are "scheming." There are said to be dark horses in both parties, and the question of who will get the nominations is a mystery. As usual, Red Deer is putting up a strong fight for the Liberal convention, where three likely men are on the war-path. To the south of that point other names are whispered of, while in our riding there is something doing. As for the Conservatives, barring Mr. Root, of Red Deer, everything is a mystery so far as the general public is concerned.

AN ANTI-FARMER CONSPIRACY.

(Vancouver World.) It is impossible to escape the conclusion that the farmers of the prairies are in the meshes of a conspiracy to prevent their reaping the advantage of the security in high prices. The money power which brought on the financial crisis in the face of the great general prosperity is determined that wheat shall not go on to the figures which seemed likely some little time ago—until in their hands. The screws are therefore being applied. The farmer is finding that he cannot sell and by and by it is expected he will be prepared to take anything that is offered him. That incidentally the whole business of the west is thrown out of joint, that the lumber mills at Vancouver are slackening down at a time when every foot of lumber they can turn out is needed, that cars are being hauled over the line empty, and that in two or three months' time tremendous congestion must result, is of no importance to the masters of the gold.

WHERE, OH, WHERE!

(Winnipeg Telegram.) Perhaps in the intervals of handing out interviews to the party press the Minister of Finance will tell the country what he is doing with the $225,000,000 which he is to spend this year. A hundred and twenty-five million dollars is a lot of money. It has been taxed out of the pockets of the Canadian people and it has been handed over to Mr. Fielding to spend. Where is it? Why must the average man and solvent citizen sit down and vainly try to figure out why money should be so scarce, while the Ottawa administration is flinging it forth at the rate of nearly three million dollars a week.

Court Decisions.

Judge Beck has handed out the following decisions in the cases tried before him at the recent sittings:

Great West Lumber Co. v. E. E. Wilkins and Mrs. Dr. Grant. In this case judgment was given for the plaintiffs with costs against both defendants. The Judge holds that the notice Wilkins served was not a proper demand because it called for payment of a greater sum than really was due; and that, in any event, it would be a forfeiture against which the court had power to relieve, and, following English decision in similar cases, he would, if necessary in this case, grant a writ of mandamus to the defendant Wilkins to compel him to pay the amount of payment due by the Co., and that Grant was informed of that fact immediately after it was made, and that Grant, therefore, purchased on behalf of his wife, with full knowledge. The Judge sets aside the transfer from Wilkins to Grant, and the mortgage from Grant to Wilkins, and gives the Co. thirty days to make the second payment and interest. W. L. Walsh, K. C. and W. E. Payne for the Co., J. L. Crawford for defendant Wilkins, and Jas. Muir, K. C. for defendant Grant.

Doring v. Gibbons. This was a special case agreed to determine the interpretation of Section 8 of the Assignment Preference Act which came into force on the 15th March, 1907. The plaintiffs, Wm. Doring & Co., together with McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., secured judgment against one Frank A. Perkinson, of Stettler, in Aug. 1903, and in September following placed execution in the Sheriff's hands with instructions to levy. The Sheriff made a seizure in June, 1907, and a few days after, Perkinson made an assignment under the above Act. Section 8 of the Act provides that, where a person has made an assignment it shall take precedence over all previous claims, and, as a result, the plaintiffs' claims were defeated. At a meeting of the creditors called by the assignee, the plaintiffs and the McCormick Co. claimed a preference by virtue of their executions which the creditors refused to allow, and this case was agreed upon to decide their respective rights. The Judge holds that Section 8 only applies to executions placed in the Sheriff's hands after the Act came into force, and that the Doring Co. and McCormick Co. are entitled to be paid in full before the ordinary creditors receive anything. Costs of all parties out of the estate. As the case is a most important one, and many thousands of dollars in other cases are awaiting the determination of the effect of this section, which Judge Beck holds not to be retroactive, a stay of thirty days has been granted to allow of appeal. W. E. Payne for plaintiffs and McCormick Co.; H. T. Harding for assignee.

More Law For The Farmer.

The following article was sent us a few weeks ago by the Government Live Stock Commissioner for free publication, they never ask us to publish anything they have to pay for. The farmer is getting about tired of being hedged in on every side by regulations for the benefit of trusts and corporations and they have about ready for a change. The article in question reads as follows:

The custom prevailing among farmers throughout Canada of slaughtering animals, particularly swine, upon their own premises and selling the dressed carcasses on the local market, is one which entails more or less loss to the producer. Before the advent of packing establishments, the domestic trade was supplied by the local butchers, who were necessarily compelled to provide for future supplies, and, as a result, the local markets were created. Conditions have changed however, the local dealers no longer supplying the domestic trade, which has passed into the hands of the packing houses, which are now the distributing centres for meats. Packers can afford to, and actually do pay higher prices and sell at lower values than the local butchers for reasons which are obvious when one considers that profits are represented by the by-products. The packers are adverse to buying dressed carcasses as they represent smaller profits in by-products; again carcasses are imperfectly dressed by the farmer, the meat in many cases being bruised and unsightly, this, as well as improper chilling being deterrent to good prices. Animals, especially hogs, require scientific chilling, otherwise those parts which enter into the process of curing become sour and unfit for market. Packers prefer to buy their meats on the hoof, and for the reasons set forth above, are able to pay higher prices for the same.

In view however, of the large trade carried on in some parts of Canada, more particularly during the fall and winter, in dressed meats, as well as in other dressed meats, attention may be directed to one of the requirements of the regulations made under the new Meat Inspection Act, which is likely to have a considerable effect on the business above referred to. The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa having assumed the responsibility of inspecting and practically guaranteeing the healthfulness of all meat and meat products sent out by the packing houses, must, of necessity, protect itself by making sure that no diseased carcasses are permitted to enter these establishments. The most effective way of preventing the entry of such meat is, of course, the careful antemortem inspection provided for by the regulations, but, in view of the large trade carried on in dressed carcasses, and of the fact that both farmers and packers have been in the habit of handling meats in this way, the officials in charge of the enforcement of the Act have decided to admit to the establishments under inspection, dressed carcasses under such conditions as will enable them to judge with reasonable certainty, as to whether the animal, prior to slaughter, was free from disease. Provision has therefore, been made for the admission on inspection, of dressed carcasses with the head, heart, lungs and liver held by their natural attachments, such carcasses to be inspected before entering the establishment, and if found fit for food to be so marked and admitted for packing purposes, while if found to be diseased, to be condemned and tanked.

This being the case it is incumbent upon every farmer bringing dressed hogs or other animals to market to remember that unless the carcasses are dressed in accordance with the regulation mentioned above, namely, with these organs left in their proper positions, it will not be possible for the representatives of the packing houses to buy such carcasses for use in any of the establishments coming under the operation of the Meat and Canned Foods Act.

The presence of the buyers or agents of these establishments at our local markets has always been, at least to some extent, a safeguard against possible attempts by local combinations of butchers and others to depress the price of dressed meats, and it will be well for producers to bear in mind the new conditions and when, for any reasons, unable to market their stock on hoof as they should undoubtedly do, they should remember that the hogs, as well as other animals in such a way as to meet the requirements of the new Act.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of the News:

An article by Elector appears in your issue of the 20th, in which it is intimated that Mr. G. W. Smith is "fixing" the "machine" and doing other things for Mr. Smith, exceedingly unexpected things.

Elector seems to forget, or pretends to do so, that the Edmonton portion at least of the machine was appealed to as a last resort to get the local machine out of trouble at the late provincial election, and that Mr. G. W. Smith, Mr. John T. Moore and Mr. John Gaetz were the individuals who at that time implored and secured the aid of the now condemned Edmonton machine, and that probably no other person has ever desired so much unhallowed joy of that machine as did G. W. Smith on that memorable occasion.

No doubt a small portion at least of that joy reached Mr. Elector also.

The cause of the joy is not far to seek. Mr. G. W. Smith had by most peculiar conduct in working the local machine, which he then ran and still endeavors to run, in order to foist J. T. Moore on the electorate, placed himself and the local machine entirely outside of the fold of Liberalism and like the prodigal son it was a happy time when the Edmonton machine picked him up.

Mr. Elector's insinuations are very funny in view of the above facts. Can it be that Mr. Smith hesitates to go to the Edmonton machine and point out in righteously indignant terms what an utterly incompetent and unworthy person Mr. J. T. Moore is, and how defiled even the machine would be if only J. T. Moore should once more set his eyes on it, when only a few short months ago he was detailing in glowing language to the same machine how the same J. T. Moore was a man (if it were right to call him a man) built and equipped by providence or at least by a ruler of one of our future rhodes, expressly, solely and only for the purpose of saving the local machine in particular, Alberta incidentally, and thereby the entire universe, and what a horrible catastrophe would inevitably follow if the predestined Moore were not recognised by the machine.

It may be so, it may be possible that for the first time Mr. Smith exhibited a lack of nerve but it is certainly incredible. A man who will attempt all at the same time, as Mr. Smith did, to run a local machine, a Liberal Association and a coalition candidate, against the wishes of the Liberal Association decidedly expressed, and on file, acquiesce in an endeavor to secure a Conservative nomination for his man of Providence, back up his man in issuing a professed Independent Platform really a Conservative Platform, secure a Liberal nomination for his man and then unblushingly support him without once receding from or apologizing for the above impossible positions, certainly has gall of no ordinary quality and quantity at least it would be so considered in any place with possibly the one exception of Red Deer.

No, No! I cannot accept the view that such a miserable thing as the Edmonton machine could possibly daunt Mr. Smith. Mr. Elector has certainly no right to so detract from Mr. Smith's undoubted and hitherto unquestioned qualifications. It is really to bad that such a thing should have been done. Apologize Mr. Elector and at once in the jeopardized interests of the universe.

Stevens Sec. Central Association stating that the only way to make the Association a success was for the members to keep in touch one with the other and the only means of so doing was for every member to take the official organ the Saturday News. It was decided next year to make the subscription $5.00 which would include the paper, L. E. Epke stated he had five 3 year old beef steers for sale. Meeting adjourned until 3rd. TALLY AND PLACE CARDS.

A Comic Set of Hoyle's Rules For Decoration.

Here are a few suggestions for the young woman who would like to make her own tally and place cards. Sheets of Bristol board of various tints (it comes in every conceivable shade), a saucer of water color gilding, a supply of narrow ribbon form the necessary outfit for the tally cards. The simplest designs are those cut in fancy shapes, such as stars, circles, shields, etc. They are pretty and help out a color scheme admirably. Moreover, they are not difficult to paint. Water color paper should be used in making these.

Leaves are pretty, oak, maple, ivy and geranium making a good selection. Clover leaves are also attractive, with one or two four leaved ones for luck. Choose pale green cardboard for the foundation and make the vines and light shading in green and brown with an irregular edge of gilding. For autumn leaves a deep cream is a better background, shading with red, brown and a touch of vivid yellow.

The flower fancies without foliage, as pansies, daisies or wild roses, are not new, but they are pretty and help out a color scheme admirably. Moreover, they are not difficult to paint. Water color paper should be used in making these. Buttery designs are easy of execution, and for these also water color paper should be used. They should be made double, the body being attached to a white card when for table use and the wings left upward, as if the butterfly had just alighted. They are primarily an Easter design, they may be utilized for other occasions.

Poster designs may be made very effective. Use an illustration of a peach or sage green embossed. Cut from some magazine a suitable figure of proper size, such as a Gibson girl or a pretty child, and paste it on the card, which will look well a little larger than the ordinary score card. Then with water color lay a few flat tones without shading. Let them be clear and bright with plenty of scarlet and yellow. It is more satisfactory not to have too many colors in one picture. Instead a large tint or red might be added a quarter of an inch from the edge of the card, or a background of some simple conventional pattern may be put in with good effect. The amateur photographer will find samples of her work much appreciated, and for this purpose nothing could be more appropriate than scenes from the summer outing. The blue print papers and postal cards are so easy to manipulate that they may be printed without difficulty during the vacation months away from home. The cutting and mounting of these familiar scenes is a much taste and ingenuity.

A Wise Mother. Surely nothing wiser or more beautiful was ever written respecting the training of children than those lines of Mark Twain's: "The mother of my children adores them—there is no milder term for it—and they worship her; they even worship anything which the touch of her hand has made sacred. They know her for the best and truest friend they have ever had or ever shall have; they know her for one who never did them a wrong and cannot do them a wrong; who never told them a lie nor the shadow of one; who never deceived them by even an ambiguous gesture; who never gave them an unreasonable command nor ever contented herself with anything short of a perfect obedience; who has always treated them as politely and considerately as she would the best and oldest in the land and has always required of them gentle speech and courteous conduct toward all; of whatsoever degree, with whom they chanced to come in contact; they know her for one whose promise, whether of reward or punishment, is gold and always worth its face to the uttermost farthing."

Pretty Parties. It is not always easy to secure material for parties that is at once pretty and inexpensive.

One woman who has been searching the town over for a fabric combining the two qualities was almost in despair when a friend, a decorator, suggested that she get much canvas for her sleeping room doors and vestibule in soft reseda shades for her library doorway.

The canvas is loosely woven and resembles burlap in appearance, though much softer and hangs much more gracefully. It costs 50 cents a yard and is very wide.

The velveteen, which is also double width, can be obtained in a number of soft colorings, and, while handsome, is not so rich looking that it kills everything else in the room.

These portieres may be applied with conventional designs in contrasting colors and are extremely artistic as well as serviceable.

An American and a Scotchman were speaking about the intense cold in the north of Scotland. "Why, it's nothing at all compared to the cold we have in the States," said the American. "I can recollect one winter when a sheep jumping from a hill into a field of corn was killed, frozen on the way, and stuck in the air like a mass of ice."

"But," exclaimed the Scotsman, "the law of gravity wouldn't allow that."

"We don't do things by halves at home," replied the other. "The law of gravity was frozen, too!"

PLAIN TALK FROM THE DOCTOR

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder troubles, stated that the following prescription is due a great deal of his success:

One ounce fluid extract dandelion;
One ounce compound salutaria;
Four ounces compound syrup sarsaparilla.

Mix and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, drinking plenty of water.

This mixture will, he says, positively cure any diseases arising from weak, clogged or inactive kidneys, and will assist these organs to cleanse the blood of the poisonous waste matter and acids, which if allowed to remain, cause lung, liver, rheumatism and edema, and at the same time will restore the kidneys to healthy normal action.

The ingredients, which are purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can be procured from any good druggist and mixed at home at very little cost.

This advice will undoubtedly be much appreciated by many readers.

Corruption in Canadian Politics.

(The Literary Digest)

There are "foul and miasmatic depths of corruption" under the "tranquil and engaging surface" of political life in Canada, says the brilliant journalist H. Hamilton Fyfe, in the nineteenth Century and after (London).

"When an American in London assured me," declares this writer, "that in the matter of 'graft' the United States were a fool to Canada," I smiled. But if any one made that same remark to me now, and if again I smiled, it would not be a smile of indulgent credulity; it would be a mask to hide shame." The writer goes on to particularize with regard to railroad-building and declares:

"Nowhere save among politicians themselves (and not always among them) is any attempt made to conceal the fact that Canadian politics are corrupt. It would be of little use to make the attempt, indeed. There have been so many revelations of crooked dealing that one might as well declare a town to be healthy which had an open sewer running through it.

"So long as railway companies are in the thick of political warfare they will buy support in Parliament if they can. One house of members of the House of Commons at Ottawa having their election expenses paid by corporations whose interests they are expected to advance. The same system prevails in the United States. Neither in the States nor in Canada is this considered disgraceful. Members of the Imperial Parliament are not altogether without sin in such matters, but the career of any M. P. known to be in the pay of a railway company would be quickly at an end.

"In such ways as these the national standard and the standard of public life degraded, and far too many are inclined to regard swindles of this kind merely as 'smart business'."

Bribery at elections is the rule in Canada, we are informed. Mr. Tarte, proprietor of the French-Canadian organ the Patrie (Montreal) declares that in that city $160,000 were thus spent during the elections of 1904.

The Montreal Gazette recently commented ironically on the disclosures of railroad frauds in Russia, and gave a list of various scandals of a similar nature in the Dominion. Thus it says:

"Every job alleged against the Russian autocracy has been paralleled in kind in Canada."

"First, there is the awful example of the Intercolonial Railway, probably as to construction the most costly single-track system in North America, serving a good traffic-bearing country with little or no competition during much of the year, and in connection with much of its length no competition at all, but so mismanaged that one of its managers, giving up his job in disgust, said it was run like a comic opera.

"Some years it does not earn enough to pay the cost of operation and maintenance, and every year it needs a grant of one, two, three, or four million dollars out of the Treasury, to keep it in condition to do at a loss the business that comes to it.

"When land is to be bought for the road, somebody who knows what is intended obtains possession of it, and turns it over to the Government at 40, 50, and 100 per cent. advance. This is established by the records of Parliament and of the courts of the land.

"There has been no Russian land business worse in principle than the last issue of land monopoly by the Laurier Government to the half-breeds in Dakota, United States. Before the order for the issue had been made public, inside speculators had obtained transfers to themselves of the half-breeds' claims to lands it was never expected they would make use of.

"The Saskatchewan Valley Land Company was as bad in kind and well up to being as bad in extent as what Russia can show. Friends of members of parliament were permitted to get for about a dollar an acre huge tracts of land which they sold immediately to settlers at six dollars and eight dollars an acre.

"In the Galway Ranch case, a government lease for a valuable tract of grazing-land was made out in the name of an unknown person in the United States. Though he never turned up to complete the transaction, it was kept alive for him for years. Finally, a member of Parliament presented himself at the departmental office with the necessary documents, got the lease transferred, and a little while later sold his interest in it for about a hundred times what he had paid.

"Another man, who had been a candidate for election to Parliament, secured a litigious right in a section of land, got it confirm by the Government, which for the purpose disregarded the report of one of its own inspectors, and then he found himself owner of a town site which some have valued at $300,000.

"As for river and harbor works, dredging, etc., the thing has become almost laughable. Carpet-dealers, doctors, shoemakers, and all sorts and conditions of men who support the Government get contracts which they submit to the directors, making something for themselves at the expense of the country."

The Daily News Advertiser, of Vancouver, speaks in a like serious tone and declares:

"It can not, we think, be denied that of late years a decadence has been visible in Canadian public life. In too many cases men have sought to obtain parliamentary life, not so much for the sake of rendering useful service to the country, as for the hope that they might thereby secure emoluments or other advantages for themselves. There has been more than one instance of this kind brought to light, and the accession to wealth of others without any visible means of securing it is a legitimate belief raises a feeling that there is something wrong in the present political situation in Canada.

"The best men in both parties, and an overwhelming majority of the people, desire the purity of public life, the honesty and integrity of those taking part in it, should be maintained, and those guilty of offending against these things be relegated to the obscurity from which the public interests, they should never have emerged.

"But while this is so, the people of Canada as a whole demand that those to whom the conduct of public affairs should be of good character and morals in their private associations as well as in their public capacity. Unfortunately, there is too much reason to believe that a number of men, prominent in public life during the last few years, have been unworthy of the trust reposed in them. In the case of some of them the suspicions that have been bruited about seem to have been well founded, since they have resigned their offices. Others, whose names have been associated by rumor with incidents incompatible with the high standard of private and public morality, still occupy positions which, if these rumors are true, they are not worthy to fill."

DISASTROUS HARVEST.

Tremendous Loss in Scotland.

William Chalmers hands us the following clipping from a Scotch paper showing us what frightfully bad weather they have been having there this harvest:

The harvest out look of the Scottish farmer this year is perhaps the most gloomy and disastrous in the last fifty years. With the advent of brilliant weather in the beginning of September agriculturists whose capital is sunk in grain crop began to be sanguine notwithstanding the cold summer the leeway might yet be made up and a fine harvest secured. These hopes have, however, vanished during the last few weeks on account of the continuous fall of rain, and the prospect now is of a calamitous character.

The great amount of moisture of past weeks has soaked the stocks of barley, wheat and oats and not only has the grain been seriously damaged but wholesale destruction of straw has occurred. Now the grain is beginning to shoot and grow in the stocks, and indeed one farmer expressed the opinion that when the result came to be made up it would be found that the loss would be greater on the fields in stock than on those which are still uncut.

The total grain crop average in Scotland this year is 1,200,000 acres. An agriculturist of great experience was interviewed by a representative of the "Weekly News" as to the monetary loss and he stated that he had calculated the damage at the present date at about $2 per acre on this basis the loss over Scotland will approximate two and a half millions sterling. The same agriculturist stated that the situation this year is worse than the disastrous seasons of 1855 and 1903.

On Sunday morning cutting and leading were vigorously pursued all over the country, the villagers whose farms were situated near villages lending ready assistance. Operations were generally stopped, however about one o'clock, when rain commenced to fall, and continued during the rest of the day.

Sunday harvesting to such an extent as prevailed on Sunday is unprecedented in most of the districts. Much of the grain sown was in indifferent condition.

WHO WANTS A HILL?

The Arizona Kicker Has One He Wants to Sell.

HIGH MOUNTAIN, LOW PRICE.

Editor Refutes Chicago Charge—He Is Not a Grafter Because There Is Nothing to Graft—Esteemed Contemporary.

(Copyright, 1907, by E. C. Parsons.)

Any one wanting a mountain 1500 feet high to sit on during the heated season will please address this office. We have one for sale cheap. We got it by advertising a forty rod whisky before the pure food law came into operation.

A Chicago paper charges "us with being at the head of the grafters in this territory. Bless your soul, but there hasn't been enough graft in Arizona in the last five years to buy food for an old crow. We are all honest because we have to be.

A Chicago paper charges "us with being at the head of the grafters in this territory. Bless your soul, but there hasn't been enough graft in Arizona in the last five years to buy food for an old crow. We are all honest because we have to be.

A year ago ex-Judge Scott censored the Kicker office out on our destruction. After he had fired five shots at us we shot his left ear off and drove him out.

him out. The ear has been in a jar of paroled ever since, and the other day the judge began to snarl against us to recover the souvenir. He wants to stick it on and see if it won't grow. To the straight shooter, however, the sports and we'll right the thing clear to the highest court.

Our esteemed contemporary insists that he fired six shots at us as we were coming home from a poker party last Tuesday night and that if we had given him six more chances he could have dropped us. Sorry for him, poor old chap! But is it ever to be thus?

Not as editor, postmaster, deputy United States marshal or mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, but as plain Jim-Hell-foe that he will arrive in this town in about two weeks and shoot six red hot bullets into our despicable carcasses. Good-bye! Things are going a little slow, and we'd like a change. Kick open the door of our sanctum and come right in.

A party named "Bull" Williams, who was hanging around the Gulch three or four months ago and who refused to let the vigilance committee hang him gently by the neck, went off to Utah and was lynched the other day by an excited mob. How few men know what's good for 'em!

Several letters have reached us asking us to define our position, editorially, as to the next presidential candidate. Not by a jugful. We are holding three government positions, and we don't propose to lose them by coming out now and yawning for some particular man who may not come within gunshot of securing the nomination. We wish the country well, but we wish ourself better.

The air of Arizona is bracing, and the territory is full of grand scenery. But if we were a stranger to the people we should neither take the air nor view the scenery from an auto. Our people as a people can't get used to anything going four wheels. It's a four legged country. Come on a cayuse and you will find a hospitable welcome.

At the last meeting of the common council City Marshal Day offered his resignation, and the same was accepted. He had served four months, and during that time was wounded five times. He thinks he got too many bullets for the salary received. Any good steady income of $12 per week will address or apply to us as mayor. In case of death he will be buried at the expense of the city.

We got an idea the other day that the man from "The Valley" ought to be expelled, and we rode out on the trail for seven miles and Len turned in behind the leading mail rider and began yelling and shouting. It was a success. The mail was expedited by a full half hour, and the carrier rode into the Gulch to claim that a gang of five highway robbers had tried to hold him up. It is such little incidents as this that endear us to the heart of the postmaster general and bring all petitions for our removal to naught.

We were coming back from Lone Jack the other day in something of a hurry, being mounted on our plebeian broncho, when, at the crossing of Dos creek, a road agent tried to hold us up. We told him we'd see him later and galloped on, and he put two bullets through our hat and turned away. "It may console him to learn that the amount of cash on hand at that time was just 15 cents.

Since we have ceased lying about our circulation our health and spirits have improved 50 per cent, and we have not had a great and agreeable change in us. We haven't an ache or pain and go around with a grin on our pluck and a sore in our heart. It was an awful burden on our back to keep lying from week to week, claiming a circulation of seven millions when we had less than a thousand, and we are glad to get it off. Let other editors try it. They will be astonished at the results.

The Chicago man who arrived here two weeks ago to set up a retail shop for the sale of trust beef and who was hiding in the hills two days after has reached Utah and made a statement in the newspapers. He denounces us as a set of cannibals and barbarians. Well, we have our little frailties, and one of them is a lack of love for anything in the shape of trusts. If religion was a trust we'd have the devil here to beat it if it cost us a hundred dollars a day.

We are asked the question by a noted divine in the east, "Can an editor live a consistent Christian life?" We don't know the object of the inquiry, but we argue that the man who asks the question never read a newspaper for three consecutive days. We wouldn't trust even the editor of an agricultural paper with our list to look up any residence in a convention. Newspaper editing is a profession that requires a peculiar sort of men. They must not be hand-cuffed.

Mr. George Lake of Pine Hill meets up with Mr. Tom White of Lone Jack, both men and begin shooting. Twelve bullets fired and a dog killed. Then they embrace and proceed to the nearest saloon, and the 200 men who have gathered to see the fair walk away with tears of shame and humiliation rolling down their cheeks. Is Arizona Arizona no longer to be coming to the can spots? Are we becoming a race of fish worms?

During the quelled were fired June 1 over 600 bullets were fired into the front doors of the city hall by cowboys and others. The city has now two hundred of bullet holes in the walls. It is prepared to claim that it has the richest lead mine in the world. Keep it boys. It doesn't hurt anybody.

M. QUAD.

Always in the Lead.

During the terrible days of 1901, when every available man was being sent to reinforce Grant's army, a single company of raw recruits arrived from a thinly populated district in Vermont. It was first ordered into action in one of the battles of the Wilderness, and the captain fell called upon to make a speech to his men.

"Soldiers," he began, "we are now going against the enemy. When the orders are given to fire do your best and kill all you can with the forty rounds of ammunition you have. When you have fired it all away you had better retreat. I am a little lame, so I am going to start now."

Both on the Way.

Manana had sent little Bessie to the pantry to fetch some sticky fly paper. She was gone a long time, and finally the mother called:

"Bessie, hurry with the fly paper. Have you got it?"

There was a pause, and then this in an earnest tone:

"No, mamma, the fly paper's got me. But—we're both coughing!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Talented.

It—What a lovely complexion Miss Finkelnberg has.

She—Yes. That girl's a born artist.

—New York Mail.

The Usual Fit.

"Great Scott!" exclaimed the polar bear. "What's that terrible row going on over there?"

The walrus looked bored. "Oh," he purred, "the coast's a little rough on her."—New York Press.

A Bored Mink.

It—Husband—My friend hardly recognized you today.

Wife—That's strange, for I wore the same hat you bought for me three years ago.—Fleecing Blatter.

In addition is paying four and a half and the other towns all the way from four and one half to five, up the line. They will ship again in two weeks.

Ball & Drake have a few cabbages left at the old price, $2.00 per hundred pounds.

The Black and White Minstrel performance in the Lyric Theatre yesterday was fairly well attended. The singing, acting and jokes were rich and racy, the parts well taken, and Fred Ivey's plug a daisy. Solos were given by Misses Brady, Cowell, Tait and Ivey, and Messrs. L. M. Gaetz, Ivey, Hart, Jarvis, Green, Geo. Paterson and Griffith. Mr. Porter gave a speech which he kept extremely moist from a jug. H. W. Clarke was master of ceremonies and W. Morris presided at the piano. Truly was better than ever as "Malinda." Miss Paterson danced the sailor's hornpipe and the sword dance in sailor's costume and was loudly encored. We are fully confident if the ladies in kilts could have seen her they would have given her the palm as the best lady dancer in Alberta. We understand about $50 will be given to the hospital as a result of the concert.

No Reading Room.

The meeting called on Friday evening last to discuss the advisability of establishing a reading room in Red Deer was so poorly attended that it was decided to abandon the idea for the present on motion of Rev. Mr. Huettis. The chair was occupied by Rev. Mr. Fortune while short addresses were delivered by Messrs. Ilsey, Porter, Huettis, McDonald and others. No doubt the question will be brought up at a later date.

Thanking all my old customers for past favors, I remain,

Funeral of the Late George Beatty.

The funeral of the late George Beatty took place on Wednesday afternoon last at the Red Deer cemetery under the auspices of the Masonic order.

The Red Deer members met in the lodge room at two o'clock and together with a number of visiting brethren formed in line, with a detachment of the 15th Light Horse, under sergeant Rothnie, and escorted the remains from Stone's undertaking parlors, where the body had been embalmed awaiting arrival of relatives, to the Presbyterian church. Mayor H. H. Gaetz, George Lundy, R. C. Brumpton, T. F. Ellis, W. Piper, and A. McFee acting as pall bearers.

The church was crowded and as the sorrowing relatives entered, the organist, Mr. W. Morris, played "Come Ye Disciples." Rev. Mr. Fortune delivered a splendid address. He urged upon all the uncertainty of life and the necessity to watch and pray. Miss Ilsey sang "Orest in the Lord" and the choir led in singing several appropriate hymns. Mr. Morris played the Dead March from Saul as the mourning relatives and Masons were leaving the church. Among the chief mourners were: Mrs. Beatty and children, Mr. David Beatty, Parry Sound, Ont., Adam Beatty, Leamington, Ont., deceased's brothers: Mr. James Beatty, John Beatty, Edmonton, cousin: W. Stephenson and H. H. Drake, and chaplain Huettis conducted the ritual of the Masonic order while the brethren deposited the sprig of green on the coffin. Mr. Fortune also took part of the service.

The ratepayers of the Town of Red Deer are hereby notified that all taxes are past due and payable and, if the same are not paid by the first week in December the collector is bound to distraint for the same without further notice as the municipality must be protected in the course of law. The Collector does not wish to take the extreme measures the law empowers and provides, and appeals to those ratepayers who have not yet paid their tax bill to meet the taxes levied against them at once. The unpaid taxes are such an amount that payment must be made at once, so that the Collector shall have time to proceed by law against defaulters within the time provided by statute. He accordingly appeals to the right thinking ratepayers to give this matter their immediate attention and make settlement before the 7th of December as steps must then be taken to collect all outstanding taxes without further notice.

CUTTERS CUTTERS

You will soon have to decide what make of a cutter you will buy—let us help you decide. We still carry the old reliable Armstrong make. It has stood the test since 1874, and when a cutter is before the public for thirty-three (33) years there is a reason, and it will pay you to investigate. We have tried others, and have had the offer of several other agencies, but quality is our watchword and the "Armstrong" has stood the test; we have them all colors and sizes; every cutter has the removable back and sides, so you can strip your cutter in the spring and pack away the cushions the same as your winter clothes. We have just received a full car load, and it will pay you to see them before buying; they cost no more than inferior cutters because we buy wholesale and give you the advantage of the car load rate. Your inspection is solicited; for we know once you get our prices and see the cutters you will have no others.
